CANADA RECOVERY CAREGIVER BENEFIT (CRCB)

The Canada Recovery Caregiving Benefit (CRCB) gives income up to $500 per week (26 weeks) to employed and self-employed individuals who are unable to work because they must care for their child under 12 years old or a family member who needs supervised care. This applies if their regular program is unavailable to them due to COVID-19, or because they are sick, self-isolating, or at risk of serious health complications due to COVID-19.

You will NOT be eligible for other benefits except One Time Disability Payment.

ONE TIME DISABILITY PAYMENT

This non-taxable, non-reportable, one-time payment provides up to $600 for those with disabilities during the COVID-19 pandemic.

You do not have to apply for this one time payment. You will automatically receive this payment if you are eligible.

El: Employment Insurance:

This benefit should be applied to first before attempting to apply for other benefits. This is because if you do not qualify for EI then you most likely do not qualify for the rest of the benefits!

Neither of EI, CRB, CRSB, and CRCB can be combined in any way and applied for together

You may be eligible for One Time Disability Payment AND ONE of the following options:

- Employment Insurance (EI)
- Canada Recovery Benefit (CRB)
- Canada Recovery Sickness Benefit (CRSB)
- Canada Recovery Caregiver Benefit (CRCB)

Please keep in mind that all these benefits are counted as taxable income. You should be setting money aside in order to pay these taxes back the following year!
